

Clarkson University
Department of Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering
SEMINAR

---

“Presentation Skills” (for Graduate Students)

Lisa Hoover, MLS/MA/JD
Public Services Librarian, Clarkson University

Do you have a presentation coming up? This workshop will focus on giving you the tips and tricks you need to make the most of your presentation delivery.

Wednesday, January 18th, 2023 at 2:30 pm
CAMP 175

Lisa Hoover is a Public Services Librarian at the Clarkson University Libraries. Her primary duties include instruction in information-related topics including accessing relevant and appropriate resources, optimizing web searching, citation management, scholarly publishing, open access, information ethics and more! In addition to her library role, Hoover adjunct teaches in criminal law at SUNY Canton and has adjunct taught in business law at Clarkson. She previously served as the office manager of North Country This Week/NorthCountryNow.com. She grew up in the North Country and currently resides in Norwood. Contact her for an appointment.